

PUBLIC LEADER

THIRD YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1894.

ONE CENT.

IT'S SO IF
LEDGER.

These streets were given a pretty thorough cleaning two weeks ago, but they are again in a horrid plight. They never will be better until we discard mud roads and adopt brick paving.

BISHOP McNAMARA has been released on $2,500 bond at Kansas City. The cases against him were set for trial February 20th. There has been a reaction in public sentiment, produced by the intolerance of the enemies of free speech.

If you have friends visiting you, or if you are going away on a visit, please drop us a note to that effect.

Will Jones of Ripley was in the city yesterday.

Milton Johnson is on a business visit to Rochester, N. Y.

Mrs. Milton Johnson is visiting relatives at Mayslick.

Philip Koutz, who has been visiting relatives here, has returned home.

Miss Hattie Naden is visiting friends and relatives at Cincinnati and Covington.

J. L. Holloway of Gallipolis returned home Saturday after a visit to Waldo W. Hamilton.

Miss Lillian Pollitt of Poplar Flat is the guest of Miss Lida Pollitt of East Third street.

Mrs. Hugh Warder of Mayslick is visiting Mrs. A. Finch and other relatives in the city.

Colonel Henry A. Power, of the Power Grocery Company, Paris, is here on a visit to his family.

Mrs. Dr. R. M. Skinner of Flemingsburg is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Skinner of this city.

J. D. Fee of New Richmond, O., who has been the guest of R. J. Bisset for several days, returned home yesterday afternoon.

Thomas A. Garrigan, E. A. B. and O. S. W. R. R. and G. T. A. O. and M. R. W. and G. G. F. generally, was in the city yesterday. He had hard work to get all his titles of the train.

Settling Down.

Charley Moore and Miss Lillian H. were married by Judge Piester yesterday afternoon at his office. It was the second offense for the young man and the first for the lady.

Police Court Doings.

Ed. Hlatt, charged with using abusive language and being disorderly, was given a fine of $10 and costs on each charge.

Walter Skinner, Zeke Smith, Calvin Bradford, Charles Ruggles and George Pepper were each given a fine of $10 and costs and a jail sentence of 30 days each. They were charged with disorderly conduct in throwing water on Mary Mangin.

Here's An Example.

Irish Abernethy, one of the most popular and hustling young men of Circleville, O., was in the city yesterday in the interest of the Isaac Hall Furniture Factory of that city.

He is a son of the well known criminal lawyer, Judge I. N. Abernethy, and the founder of several well known enterprises.

Besides being a general good hustler and a most worthy young man, he is a jolly good fellow and exceedingly deserving of the success with which he is meeting.

It Wasn't So.

"Squire George T. Beckett of Mt. Carmel was in the city yesterday and denies the story published in so many papers about him being in a prizefight recently.

He says the whole story is untrue, that there was no fight, no purse nor anything else and that the man who wrote it was a "bold liar" and did it out of personal spite.

It seems that he knows who telegraphed the report to the Cincinnati papers, but would not from causing them any trouble. He called on The Leader hence these remarks.

INDEED SAD.

A Little Boy Steals to Get Something for His Mother to Eat.

Constable Dawson yesterday afternoon discovered some stolen goods which belonged to the Frank Owens Hardware Company.

A little fellow named Smith, and only 13 years old, entered the store on Thursday evening of last week and while several employees of the store were sitting in the rear he plucked two boxes containing a dozen each of fine pocket knives and started away.

As he was leaving the store Harry Owens noticed him and called to him, asking what he wanted. The boy replied, stating that he wished to purchase a five cent pocket knife. As Mr. Owens had no knife for that money the boy went on out, carrying with him two dozen knives valued at $38.

Since then the little fellow has been retelling them out at twenty-five cents apiece.

Constable Dawson was put on the case, and yesterday afternoon located the boy, but he only had seven remaining, having sold the balance.

The boy works at the Cotton Mill, and told an exceedingly pitiful story. He said he was nearly 12 years of age, and being cold and hungry had gone into the store to rob the drawer of its contents in order to get money with which to buy food for himself and mother.

He discovered the bell on the cash drawer, and fearing he could not open it without attracting attention he picked up the knives and started out.

Mr. Owens pities the boy, and on account of his age will not prosecute him.

Merchants.

Attention!

Please read THE LEDGER'S proposition, under head of "Where to Deal," to be found in another column and have your name placed "on the list."

HON. WILLIAM C. HALBERT OF LEWIS COUNTY LEAVES THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

Resigns the Chairmanship of the Democratic Committee, and Says He Will Hereafter Act With the Republican Party, and Cast His Ballot for the Protection of the Industrial Interests of This Country.

Seldom has political circles in this part of the state been so agitated as when it was learned that W. C. Halbert had resigned the Chairmanship of the Lewis County Democratic Executive Committee and declared his intention of hereafter acting with the Republicans, and casting his ballot for the men and party who have the industrial interests of the country at heart.

His action has caused a most profound sensation among his fellow-workers in the Democratic party, and his example will undoubtedly be followed by others who have become thoroughly disheartened by the suicidal policy of the party in power, that has already paralyzed the business manufacturing interests and threatens to bring ruin and disgrace to the Nation.

Mr. Halbert was elected County Attorney of Lewis county in 1890, and holds that office at the present time.

He is one of the leading lawyers of Eastern Kentucky, and has always been a prominent and effective worker in the party.

The following letter, resigning the Chairmanship of the Democratic Executive Committee, fully explains his reasons for the step he has taken:

"VANCEBURG, KY., Feb. 7th, 1894.

"To James Noel Johnson, Secretary Democratic Executive Committee of Lewis County—Dear Sir: Being opposed to the present policy and tendencies of the Democratic party in the Tariff question, as expressed in the Wilson Bill and its passage through the Lower House of Congress by the almost unanimous vote of our Representatives in that body; and believing, as I do, that the enactment of the Wilson Bill in its present form into a law would not redound to either the present or future prosperity or happiness of the people of the United States, and will in no small degree tend to retard and prolong the recovery of our country from the severe financial and industrial depression that now so unfortunately afflicts it, and sincerely believing that the National Government has the right to levy Tariff duties on articles imported into the country, not merely for revenue only, but also for the Protection of the material and property interests of its citizens, as much so as to protect their persons against injurious foreign interference or encroachment upon their rights of person. And, further believing that this question is the most important now dividing the two major political parties, I feel constrained to unite with that party whose views on this question are in harmony with my own, and I have concluded to sever the political tie that has heretofore bound me to the Democratic party, and for the future to cast my ballot for the Protection of the industrial interests of my country, and for that purpose to unite with the Republican party. Viewing this matter from a business standpoint entirely, and, right or wrong, having formed my opinion that Protection for the sake of Protection with reciprocity is the best policy for the United States, I can no longer with honor to myself or fidelity to the party continue to support men or measures whose success I deem inimical and detrimental to the welfare and prosperity of the country, for public opinion and a proper respect to the political friends and associates with whom I have heretofore acted, require me to state more fully the reasons inducing me to abandon the political ties and friends of former years, will take this time and method to state my views and the causes moving me to the step I have taken.

"It has been said that times change and men often change with them, but principles never. We have within the past twelve years sufficient evidence to convince us that times change, sometimes for the worse; and that men also change with the times is a matter of such frequent occurrence as to need no comment, and while it may also be equally true that principles never change, yet it is a fact that in the course of years issues once dividing political parties and earnestly and manfully contended for by their respective partisans, may and do become obsolete and fully settled by the current of events. And there is little doubt that men frequently cling to and remain followers of a party when the distinctive principles it once represented, and for which they adhered to it, have ceased to exist, and the party name no longer represents the interest or belief of the voter, who from mere force of habit and a natural disinclination to change continues to adhere to the party when his convictions and his interests require him to belong to the opposing party.

"The vital and controlling issues between the Democratic and Republican parties previous to the rebellion were the questions of slavery and secession; other issues were subordinate to these vital ones, and men chose sides as their opinions varied on these questions; many Democrats on these questions became Republicans and many Whigs, who had opposed Democracy all their lives on other issues, became active and leading Democrats.

"The War of the Rebellion finally and forever determined both these issues, and they are now as extinct as the claim of England to her American colonies; and although the names of the parties have remained unchanged since the war, yet they no longer represent the same principles or issues that they once stood for.

"New issues have since arisen, and old issues have by the settlement of more important issues assumed greater importance, and among them, and in my judgment the most important, is the question of Protection to American industries in the broadest sense of that appellation. Many able, honest and conscientious Republicans believing the issues of slavery and secession finally settled, and believing in the most important, is the question of revenue only, and that this was the most important issue between the parties, and that on it the Democratic position was right, have united with the Democratic party, and now hold high positions in its councils.

"I have been unable to arrive at the same conclusion, although my prejudices and aversion to change my party associates and ties inclined me naturally in that direction. In the effort to arrive at the solution of which theory or party was right on the question I have considered Adam Smith, Henry George and other writers, whose views are in harmony with the Democratic theory of a Tariff for revenue only, if not for Free-trade, and while the views and arguments of the advocates of this theory seem fair and sound, plausible, the tendency of the Nations of the world are against it, and we are asked to permit other Nations to sell their products to us without restriction, when, with the single exception of England, they decline and refuse to allow us the same privilege. And while my intellect may be at fault, my judgment inclines me to take the theory of a Tariff for Protection with reciprocity with such Nations as it may be advantageous for us to form commercial relations with. Nations are like individuals, governed by motives of self-interest, and unless we take care of ourselves and our own interests it is self-evident they will not be cared for at all. The Tariff question is not new. It has been discussed since the birth of the Republic, and during all that time, able, honest and patriotic men have differed on it, and I concede to every one what I claim for myself—the right to decide the question for himself and in the manner that he believes will best subserve his own interest and the prosperity of the entire country. We lay too much stress on a name, and pride ourselves too much on our consistency. The interest of the country and our own business interests are more important than party symbols or consistency, and when our business interests or the prosperity of the country are menaced by hostile legislation, we should not hesitate, if necessary, to have the courage of our convictions, and to espouse that cause and that political party that will advance or promote the general welfare and happiness of our people, and thereby subserve our own business interests.

"I will not knowingly vote for men or measures that will cause a single industry of the country to cease or be crippled in its onward progress. I do not believe that any industry in the country, no matter when created, can be destroyed without affecting the remainder of the country.

"I cannot see how we can ruin the manufacturer without also seriously affecting the consumer.

BILL NYE will be at the Opera house next week.

It was no trouble for yesterday's wind to blow through your whiskers.

There were only three applications at Ironton before the Civil Service Board last Saturday.

Mrs. HARRIET DAVIS has been confined to her home for several days past by the dreaded grip.

BABY WILLIAMSON, oldest brother of Rev. T. W. Williamson of Aberdeen, died a few days ago at Waverly, Va.

Watch for THE LEDGER'S World's Fair Portfolio. It is coming, and will be the finest ever published. Wait for it.

AYER'S Hair Vigor is the best preparation which can be obtained for removing dandruff and curing humors of the scalp.

FRANCIS LEON CHRISTMAN, husband of Marie Decca, is a contributor now to the literary press. He is located at Washington, D. C.

L. T. BACON and Miss Lottie Lee Crawford will be married. At least they have secured the necessary papers for such of the County Clerk.

In the list of the bondsmen of Major Chenoweth THE LEDGER'S informant unintentionally omitted the name of Colonel John N. Thomas.

Word has been received in this city of the death of Charles Holmes, son of Captain Holmes, at his home near New Harmony, O., Sunday night.

JOHN W. BROWN of this city took the first copy of THE LEDGER and has never missed a single number. He keeps his subscription always paid in advance.

Mrs. SIMON NELSON was called to Cincinnati yesterday evening by a telegram announcing the dangerous illness of the infant child of her brother, A. S. Bliss.

MAJOR CHENOWETH will probably receive his commission as Postmaster within the next day or two. It will require the biggest end of a day to count the stamps and cash and start matters afresh.

D. A. EMMITT of this city is arranging for a lease of the Emmitt Distillery at Waverly, O. A big stock company will be formed and $10,000 invested in new machinery.

THE Vanderbilts have secured a larger interest in Chesapeake and Ohio and in "Big Four" than they ever held before and will hereafter absolutely control those lines with the steamers from Newport News.

It will only be a few days now until THE LEDGER can announce definitely the date of the first issue of the Magic City. It will be the best set of views ever published and will be well worth waiting for. Watch our columns for the announcement.

The next dance to be given by the Maysville Assembly will be Thursday evening, February 23d. It has not yet been decided whether the dance will be given, but whenever it is given there is an assurance of its success in the simple fact that it is to be given by the Assembly.

The beautiful Silver Gold Lined Ten Set in Ballenger's window would be a decided bargain at the price to which it has been marked down. It is the very best quality, and the price for entire set today is $35. If not sold to-day the price to-morrow will be $40 and the price will be reduced $1 every day until it is sold.

LOUIS CONSTANS, ex-City Treasurer of Newport, was charged with the embezzlement of $30,000 belonging to the city. An "expert" bookkeeper "clinked" the matter by proving the charge. And now come other expert bookkeepers and a long public trial, and Mr. Constans shows so exclusively that he doesn't owe the city a cent.

THE LEDGER'S WEATHER SIGNALS.

White streamer—FAIR.
Blue streamer—SHOW.
With Black above—WILL WARMER grow.
If Black's beneath—COLDER will be.
Unless Black's shown—no change will be.

The above forecasts are made for a period of three-six hours, ending at 8 o'clock to-morrow evening.

A PESTIFEROUS PERSON.

There's a fellow down in Georgia workin' on The Condition; That's a-lyin' hisself liable to a righteous retribution. For long about this time of year, he rattles out out his rhymes. 'Bout spring, and flowers, and febin and about the happy times. That's a fellow has in Georgia, musin' all along the creek. While the snow up here announcing us Yanks is fallin' fast and thick. A feller reads one of them rhymes, an' almost smells the breeze. All scented up with growin' smells thrown from the budding trees. An' almost has his mind made up to go an' dig some bait. An' then looks an' sees some kid a-startin' off to skate; So we think this wicked Georgia took a month to be suppressed. An' made to give his springtime truck an o'rt to go at rest; An' stop from tantalizin' us with plecters of the spring. While things up here is froze up tight—indeed he ort, by Jingo!

Special Notice.

After this date THOMAS A. DAVIS becomes sole owner of THE PUBLIC LEDGER, having acquired the stock of all others interested.

The paper enters to-day upon its third year, with a phenomenally large subscription list, a rapidly-increasing advertising patronage, and with the most flattering prospects for the future.

For these favors a generous public will please accept our grateful thanks, with the assurance that Mr. DAVIS will strive to merit a continuance of same in even a greater degree.

PUBLIC LEDGER CO.
THOMAS A. DAVIS,
Manager, Ky., Jan. 21, 1894.

THE LEDGER to-day gives space to the letter of Hon. WILLIAM C. HALBERT, in which he assigns the reasons that actuated him in leaving the Democratic party and casting his fortunes with the Republicans. Throughout the letter breathes a spirit of patriotic Americanism that does honor to Mr. HALBERT, and his arguments should appeal to the good sense of every man who is not willing to lend his voice and vote to build up England at the expense of the workmen of this country.

SAM JONES closed his revival at Nashville Sunday night by raising $10,000 to pay off the church debt.

B. F. GRAZIANA, a prominent Covington lawyer, is charged with compounding a felony. He had a client slip out with the papers in his case.

A CIRCLE of King's Daughters at Park City, Ky., recently raised sufficient money to secure some coal for a poor family. The money was given to the family, who, instead of buying coal, had their photographs taken.

The weather clerk, who was off fishing and neglecting his business all fall and like to have let winter get away from him, has gotten down to business at last and is now outlying the great success of the Strawberry Fishing Club.

As Cincinnati Chester Mullen, white, shot and killed John Thomas, colored, Mullen caused Thomas of cribbing $5, and a quarrel ensued. Mullen says he intended to shoot over his victim's head. He surrendered to the police.

The Local Board of Underwriters, which has so long favored a highly "Protective" tariff on insurance rates, has gone into the free-for-all class. It dissolved Saturday. Mayville is the best protected city in the state, both from wind and fire, yet the insurance rates have been unfairly high.

Lay all the people love God the glory for the triumphs of his grace in the salvation of so many souls at Mitchell's Chapel. Notwithstanding the bad night there was a considerable congregation and one conversion, making to date 43 additions and 58 conversions. Services each day 10 to 11 a. m. and 8 to 9 p. m.

"We believe that Bill Nye is the brightest humorist of the day. No change in the English language can ever do away with his fun. He is a public benefactor, one of the greatest men of his age. We should to think what will become of us when he goes. May fate stay the day."—Philadelphia Press.

He will be in Mayville soon.

It's All Right.
The entertainment given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wayne and company at the Opera house last night was a most excellent one. They presented that beautiful play, "Forgiveness," in a most acceptable manner, and the large audience present appreciated the efforts of the players.

The company is strong throughout, the wardrobe elegant, and the staging of the plays perfect.

The piece presented to-night will be "A Strange Woman."

The Hamilton-Shackelford Suit
Attracting Attention in Court.

The Circuit Court again, yesterday being the second day of the trial.

In spite of the number of times it has come off the courtroom, was well filled all day by eager and anxious listeners, who crowded as near to the witness stand as possible to hear every word of the witnesses examined.

Miss Hamilton, who was the last witness Saturday afternoon, was again examined yesterday, and it was almost noon before the attorneys had concluded questioning her. Her testimony was in all the same as has been so often published, no new facts of special import coming out. Her father and mother were also examined before the noon adjournment, but like their daughter, gave no new testimony.

In both cases the examination was very short.

In the afternoon Mr. Shackelford took the stand and remained there until the evening adjournment. He will finish his testimony this morning, and it is expected the trial will be finished this evening or tomorrow noon at the latest.

The testimony of Mr. Shackelford was greatly delayed by the attorneys on both sides making objections to questions being asked by the opposing counsel.

The rulings of Judge Harbison were very precise and clear, and a great many exceptions were filed by the attorneys for the plaintiff, who entered the questions.

A. M. J. Cochran is conducting the examination for the defense, while Judge Cole and Judge Phipps are holding down the side of the plaintiff.

The fire insurance premiums paid by Mayville people amount to nearly $40,000 annually. The losses will not average $10,000 a year. A local company would be more profitable to stockholders than even a First Gas Plant. But Mayville capitalists are seldom satisfied with modest promises. They fairly rave over something that promises big—and proves a fake!

A Good Showing.

The meeting of those interested in the Toll Road Law yesterday afternoon was well attended considering the bad weather.

The Finance Committee made their report, which showed that between $500 and $600 had been subscribed to defray the expenses in fighting the violators of the law.

The next meeting will be held on the 26th inst., when some definite action will be taken.

ROSEAU BROS., BEE HIVE.

feeling the wage worker, who depends upon him for employment, and we cannot deprive the employee of all or a portion of his wages or earnings without impairing his capacity as a consumer of the products of other labor; and in that way it may and does affect, directly or indirectly, the whole country. Like a stone thrown into a pool of water, it will be felt more at the point where the blow strikes or the factory is located, but its effect will reach the furthest shore of the pond and the country respectively.

"I am willing to concede that the Tariff is a tax, and that, as a rule, to which there may be exceptions, the consumer pays the tax; but nevertheless, I am in favor of the method of raising the revenue of the Government, and, if necessary, to impose duties in addition for the sake of protecting our industrial system. I was born and reared in Kentucky. I was my parents and grandparents, and I am proud of my native state, but I believe that she needs her many natural resources developed, her road system extended and improved; more factories and less politics. And when she ceases to reverse the past and follow an idea that every civilized country in the world save England has discarded, then she may take the place among the sisterhood of states her location and her natural resources entitle her to take. I believe that Protection will benefit the entire country, but will benefit the South more than the New England States, who, with free wool, coal and iron ore and cheap labor and established plants could even under a Tariff for revenue only, or even Free-trade, continue to exist; but it would, in my opinion, ruin the industries located in the South, where such favorable conditions as to capital, etc., do not exist. I think that under a Protective Tariff the South is destined to make a marked industrial progress, and her many natural resources be developed within the lifetime of the present generation. I believe that the development in the South in the past ten years under a Protective Tariff is only the beginning of an industrial awakening in the South, if the Protective system under which it has occurred be not stricken from the statutes of our country, and this can only be done by the aid of Southern votes. It remains to be seen whether the South will approve the action of its Representatives in the Lower House of Congress. I for one do not propose to endorse their vote in favor of the Wilson Bill. I believe that the issues of the war having passed away, and the Force bill and its advocates no longer a dangerous factor in the Republican policy, men should select and vote for issues that concern the prosperity of themselves and their country."

"The war ended at Appomattox, and we cannot, if we would, recall it to that great conflict. Birmingham and Chattanooga should move on more now than the memories of Chickamauga or Gettysburg.

"I might also state that I am opposed to the policy of the Administration in regard to the restoration of the Queen of Hawaii. I do not care whether Stevens aided in her downfall or not. I don't believe any patriotic American would censure him if he did sympathize and aid to some extent the white men in their efforts to overthrow a corrupt and despotic monarchy in the Hawaiian Islands. I have always been a true and loyal member of the Democratic party, but I never understood that its mission or its tenets required us to restore fallen monarchies anywhere, no matter by what means their kingdoms were overthrown, and a Republican system of Government sought to be erected in its ruins. The members of the Democratic party in Congress say whitewash the Administration in the affair, but the press of the country has spoken, without the pressure of public patronage weighing on their consciences, and the ballot-box will also be heard from in November in condemnation of the course of the Administration in this affair, and many members of Congress who now fail to reflect the sense of their constituents on the Tariff and Hawaiian questions will not again have the chance to misrepresent them at Washington.

"I may also state, in passing, that I am opposed to the recent issue of bonds by the Secretary of the Treasury, and I cannot conceive that under the existing laws he has the right to use the proceeds of such bonds for the payment of the general current expenses of the Government.

"I am in favor of the use of both gold and silver as the currency of the country, and the continued use and coinage of silver, under such restrictions as may be necessary, to the fullest extent possible as one of the money metals of the country.

"I believe that we could borrow our financial and tariff ideas from France instead of England, with benefit to the country, but the Administration now in power does not seem to think so.

"I wish to further say that while I have changed my political ties and associates, I do not wish or expect to change the many personal friends and associates in the Democratic party. I differ with them on a question that does not affect or interfere with my obligations of a personal, social and business nature. With many thanks to the committee for courtesies extended, and with pleasant memories of our personal relations, I remain as ever, your friend, W. C. HALEBERT.

ALBERT FAVORITE OF ARKANSAS CITY, Kans., wishes to give our readers the benefit of his experience with colds. He says: "I contracted a cold early last spring that settled on my lungs, and had hardly recovered from it when I caught another that hung on all summer and left me with a hacking cough which I thought I never would get rid of. I had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy some fourteen years ago with much success, and concluded to try it again. When I had got through with one bottle my cough had left me, and I have not suffered with a cough or cold since. I have recommended it to others, and all speak well of it." Fifty-cent bottles for sale by Theo. C. Power, Druggist.

NASHVILLE, TENN., March 6th, 1893.—The Stockton Medicine Co., Nashville, Tenn., Gentlemen: It gives me exceeding pleasure to speak your Antiseptic, as I consider it something wonderful in the way of medicine. My old friend Albert, who is 72 years of age, was very sick with pneumonia, complicated with heart trouble and dropsy. I called in my physician and gave him every attention, but the doctor finally said he could not cure him, and the only thing that could be done was to let him die. I called on you and bought a bottle of your Antiseptic, and I decided to give him Stockton's Antiseptic, as it seemed to be performing almost miracles for others. I gave him regular doses every three hours and the fever began to decrease from the first dose, and decided improvement was noticed the first day. In three days he was sitting up and a week he was back at his work as usual, and is regaining his strength very fast. I cordially believe it saved his old man's life. Respectfully yours, No. 1, New Block, For sale by Power & Reynolds, Druggists.
